

FOOD HYGIENE COURSES IN LANGUAGES OTHER THAN ENGLISH

-

TRAINING PROVIDERS

Leicester City Council

Leicester City Council Environmental Health has a training unit which is Charter Mark status and seeks to become a centre of excellence in delivering food hygiene courses in languages other than English. Their rates are 'reasonable' and tutors may be able to come to premises to deliver courses if required.

Courses delivered:

In Ethnic Minority Languages:

CIEH Foundation Level Food Certificate Courses in Gujarati, Hindu, Punjabi, Urdu, Bengali, Cantonese, Mandarin and Turkish.

The Unit were developing a Hazard Analysis Course in Chinese and hoped to have Level 2 CIEH Intermediate Food Certificated Courses in Chinese and Hindi.

In English:

CIEH Food Hygiene - all levels

Hazard Analysis

Foundation Level Health and Safety

Professional Trainer Courses

If you want to find suitable tutors who can deliver courses in any of the above languages, they can be contacted as follows:

Leicester (0116) 252 6417, or e.mail: payns002@leicester.gov.uk

Website: <http://www.leicester.gov.uk/foodtraining>

Abbafield Training Centre

This provider offers on-site training for businesses, conducted in various ethnic minority languages, including Urdu, Arabic, Bengali, Cantonese and Turkish, amongst others. One-to-one tuition is also offered.

The following courses are offered:

- CIEH Food Hygiene Options
- Food Hygiene Update
- CIEH Foundation / Intermediate / Advanced Food Hygiene Certificate
- CIEH Hazard Analysis Principles and Practice Certificate

- Hazard Analysis for Halal Butchers
- Various CIEH Health and Safety Certificate courses
- Professional Trainers Certificate

Contact:

Abbafield Training Centre

17 Wellesbourne Road, Stone Cross, East Sussex BN24 5QX

Tel/Fax: 01323 760850

email: ali@abbafield.co.uk

website: www.abbafield.co.uk